

There are U.S. Military kids who live all over the globe.

Military children often get to travel and get to see many different places.